PART 1: PROPOSAL

Small Business:

Flex_fitgymwear (an activewear business)

The business started in 2025 when I became physically active. Activewear was quite expensive, so one day I went to Dragon City to stock up on gym wear, and the moment I posted myself in this attire, people wanted it, and I was sold out in 5 days. I saw a gap in the market as people were complaining about the expensive activewear, and selling mine at a reasonable price made people support me.

Mission& Vision

According to (Dhamagadda,T.2026) A mission statement clarifies what the business does and who its target market is or its reason to exist. Furthermore, a vision statement narrates the future of the business and how it will improve for the future. The Flex fit gym wear has currently been experiencing a pause due to the crises that have been happening, such as stores that are in areas such as Dragon City being closed. However, the business is improving. The business caters to women between the ages of 18 and 36 who are active and from small to large sizes. This brand ensures that women have access to affordable gym wear that is comfortable and accessible.

A vision statement describes your goals for the business that will better be understood by your customers or the people you work with, (FasterCapital,2026).

2. Flex Fit Activewear is a small business that still has room to grow and become better. With the crises and the hold, we have been experiencing for the past few weeks, it is better to venture into looking for a business in China that can deliver gym wear for us; this will help us get a bigger batch of clothes with our name/logo on them. With the business growing, it is important to stay true to ourselves and the people we cater to.

Target Audience

Knowing your target market/ audience as a business is essential as this helps you to cater to a specific group of audience customers, according to (Educba Blog,2026) “Identifying this group helps businesses focus their marketing”.

The (Flex fit active wear) is an active wear business that focuses on catering gym wear to women who are active and want to have access to fashionable active wear that is price friendly. This business sells active wear daily and ensures that women from all sizes are catered for. The prices range between R500-800 depending on the pieces

WEBSITE GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

The goal of the website for this activewear business is to showcase our items with more information on the texture/material, different sizes we are catering to, and the prices of each item. This will help our customers, as they will be more informed on the item and it will make their lives easy. Furthermore, the website will help us know how many customers are purchasing and which items are likely to be sold out.

Vaclunaite,D.2022. States' KPIs are divided into various sectors. The "Sessions" show you how many times a customer has been on your website, and which items people are more interested in. This will allow us to know when the items will be out of stock beforehand so we can purchase these items and not sell out for weeks.

Proposed Website features and functionality

It is important for the website to have a homepage that will showcase the business name, logo, and a set of images. Next, customers must know what the business is about and what we aim to achieve and how (about us). Furthermore, a collage of images of our items, colors, sizes, and prices must be showcased. So that customers know which items to buy and how much they cost with the correct sizes. Lastly, it is important to include our contact details and the Instagram page. This information provided will help customers to contact us if they have any additional information.

Design and user experience

Color Scheme :

(Stevenson, T.n.d) states colors are important when it comes to fitness websites, as they create a mood and how people view your products. The colours that will be included in the website are neutral, blue, peach, black and white. These are mostly colours that are relaxing and would be most suitable for the brand.

Layout and Design:

The layout of the app should be easy to use, once you enter on the website you will be able to see pictures of the businesses and what we are selling. The name of the business at the very top. With a three column menu that includes (Home, items,) at the left side of the website there will be a search logo followed by a purchase basket. Once you scroll down there will be pictures of all the items that we sell including their prices, sizes and different color schemes. At the very end of the website will be a sentence the "About us" that will explain what the business is about and our mission and vision will be clearly stated. Including our Instagram page.

Typography:

As a fitness brand, it is important to choose fonts and sizes that would represent the mood and the customers we are catering to. Calibri, font size 16 or 20, would be perfect for our website.

Layout and Design:

As a fitness brand/website. The layout and design of the website should be easy to use. The home page will have the name of the brand as you click on the website. With three columns on the left, a search bar and a shopping logo at the right-hand side. The home page will be simple and display a video of the activewear that we have available on models.

Once you scroll down a catalog of images will appear of our items written "Images" and how each item is styled and all models (small-medium).

Next will be “items” here the items will be clearly prices and labeled with their sizes. Some pieces are not sets and can be bought individually.

Once you scroll down after that “items section”, a “about us” section will appear that will tell you more about our business and what we aim to achieve.

The last section will be the “contact us” section. With all our social media platforms.
